Academic Success, Safety, Climate & Equity Drive Transformation of Discipline Policies

As the far-reaching impact of school discipline policies is increasingly realized by educators, the discussion around how to manage student behavior continues to expand. To improve academic achievement, educators recognize the need to keep struggling students in class while also recognizing the need to minimize disruption for the benefit of all students.

At the same time, new revelations regarding the lingering effects of trauma, poverty and other adverse childhood experiences (ACEs) on behavior prompts even veteran educators to question the appropriateness of traditional discipline methods. And the 20 percent of students who are battling mental and/or emotional challenges often do not respond to, and can be escalated by, confrontational, heavy-handed approaches.

Studies in both the U.S. and Canada have confirmed that exclusionary and zero-tolerance policies continue to be applied unfairly to minorities and students with special needs.

Recently the critical role of school discipline policy has come into increased focus as administrators seek to improve school climate and enhance school safety. Now in its eighth year, the School Discipline Conference provides a forum where educators can gather information on various approaches and philosophies. It assembles internationally recognized experts and speakers and features evidence-based programs as well as promising new approaches developed by practitioners.

The School Discipline Conference is a must-attend gathering for principals, deans, teachers and counselors focused on improving academic performance by applying the most current innovations and research to behavior intervention and classroom management.

The School Discipline Conference Addresses:

- Updated Tools & Strategies for Behavior Interventions
- Do's and Don'ts of Implementing PBIS
- Evidence-Based Insights for New & Experienced Educators
- Keys to Working with Minority Students
- How to Handle Particularly Challenging Students
- Legal Landmines Every Educator Should Understand
- Best Practices for Insuring Equity in Disciplinary Practices

Dr. Ruby Payne is the founder of aha! Process and an author, speaker, publisher, and career educator. Recognized internationally for A Framework for Understanding Poverty, her foundational book and workshop, Dr. Ruby Payne has helped students and adults of all economic backgrounds achieve academic, professional and personal success. As an expert on the mindsets of economic classes and overcoming the hurdles of poverty, she has trained hundreds of thousands of professionals, from educators and school administrators to community, church and business leaders.

Payne founded aha! Process to offer a broad range of training solutions—workshops, consulting, books, and trainings for K–12, higher education and communities—with a focus on creating sustainable success for everyone. In the field of education, her career-long goal of offering strategies for successfully raising student achievement and overcoming economic class barriers has become the cornerstone of aha! Process' K-12 work, used with school districts across the country.

Dr. Stuart Ablon is the Director of Think:Kids in the Department of Psychiatry at Massachusetts General Hospital. He is also Associate Professor and the Thomas G. Stemberg Endowed Chair in Child and Adolescent Psychiatry at Harvard Medical School. Dr. Ablon is author of the books

Changeable: The Surprising Science Behind Helping Anyone Change, Treating Explosive Kids: The Collaborative Problem Solving Approach, and The School Discipline Fix.

Dr. Ablon received his doctorate in clinical psychology from the University of California at Berkeley and completed his training at Massachusetts General Hospital and Harvard Medical School. A dynamic and engaging speaker, Dr. Ablon was ranked #5 on the list of the world's top rated keynote speakers in the academic arena. Dr. Ablon trains parents, educators and clinicians, and helps organizations throughout the world implement the Collaborative Problem Solving approach.

Author of Roadmap to Responsibility, Larry Thompson is often called upon to deliver keynote presentations for education conferences because of his knowledge, humor and passion for assisting today's students. Larry has served in a wide variety of roles in education – from special education teacher to coach to alternative school principal to traditional high school principal. His Responsibility-Centered Discipline program has helped thousands of educators throughout North America break away from traditional discipline programs to a sustainable model that creates a responsible climate and responsible students.

Dr. Christopher Emdin is an Associate Professor in the Department of Mathematics, Science and Technology at Columbia University; where he also serves as Director of the Science Education program and Associate Director of the Institute for Urban and Minority Education.

He is an alumni fellow at the Hutchins Center at Harvard University and served as STEAM Ambassador for the U.S. Department of State and Minorities in Energy Ambassador for the U.S. Department of Energy.

Dr. Emdin is a social critic, public intellectual and science advocate whose commentary on issues of race, culture, inequality and education have appeared in dozens of influential periodicals including The New York Times, Wall Street Journal and Washington Post.
